TILE OF SPAIN AWARDS

ASCER presents its overview, novelties and Tile of Spain Awards

ASCER presented the prizes for the 23rd edition of the Tile of Spain Architecture and Interior Design awards

Last week ASCER, the Spanish Ceramic Tile Manufacturers' Association, held an international press conference within the framework of the CEVISAMA trade fair. Backed by ICEX España Exportación e Inversiones, the event was an opportunity to present the latest innovation and design trends from the exhibiting companies, before ending with the presentation of the 23rd edition of ASCER's annual Tile of Spain Architecture and Interior Design Awards.

ASCER's president, Vicente Nomdedeu Lluesma, gave the provisional industry overview for 2024, which closed on a slightly positive note in terms of production, domestic sales and employment.

At the press conference, ASCER's president highlighted that "a significant part of our business is generated in highly demanding markets, where customers seek products with high levels of innovation, design, and quality.
