ARCHITECT ICON

PURE AESTHETIC

Architect Peter Zumthor, though sometimes classified as a minimalist because of the austerity of his spaces, actually did not have a single style, instead, he reacted to the needs of each individual commission

Architect Peter Zumthor is a noted architect who was born on April 26, 1943 in Basel, Switzerland. His work is frequently described as uncompromising and minimalist. Though managing a relatively small firm, he is the winner of the 2009 Pritzker Prize and 2013 RIBA Royal Gold Medal. From 1963-67, he studied at the Kunstgewerbeschule, Vorkurs and Fachklasse with further studies in design at Pratt Institute in New York.

A black and white photograph of architect Mario Botta. He is seated in the center, wearing glasses and a light-colored sweater over a collared shirt. His hands are clasped in front of him. He is surrounded by a vast sea of small, rectangular boxes, each with a number on its top surface. The boxes are stacked in rows and columns, creating a dense, grid-like background that recedes into the distance. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting Botta against the dark, repetitive pattern of the boxes.

BUILDING PEACE

Swiss architect Mario Botta will be at Cersaie 2022 for the conference “Building Peace”

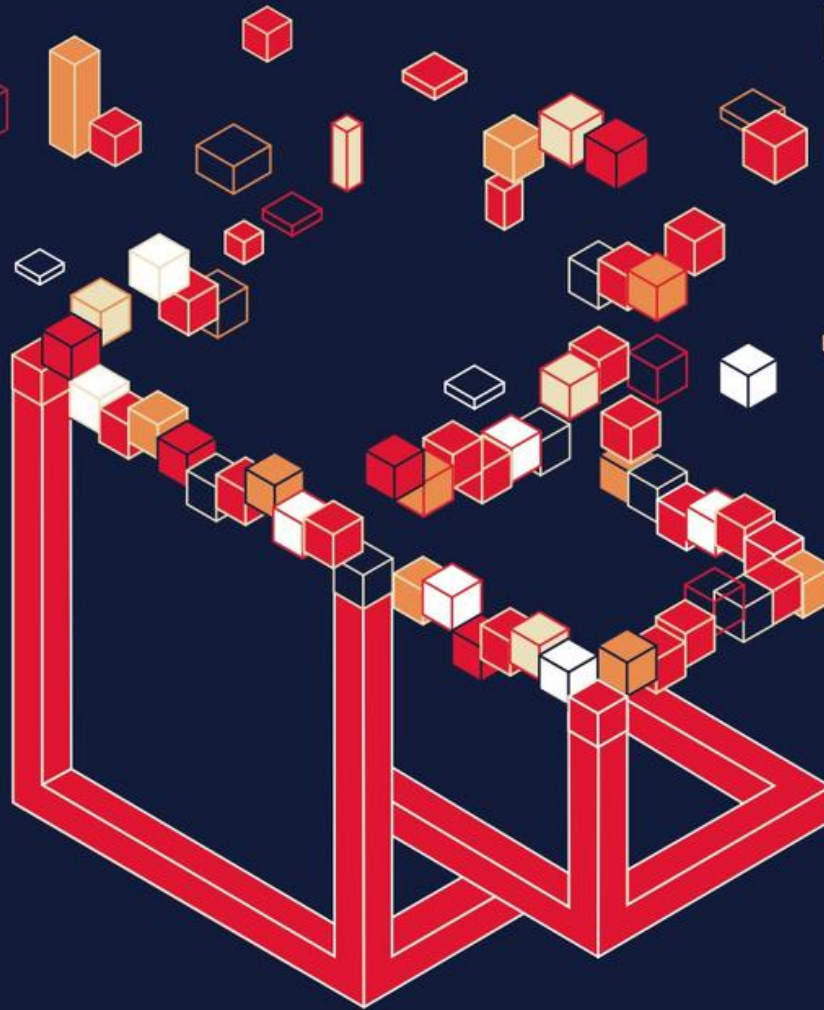

Promoting peace, justice and strong institutions is goal number 16 of the UN’s 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, and the theme of peace will take centre stage in one of the conferences in Cersaie’s “building, dwelling, thinking” programme. At 3.00 p.m. on Wednesday 28 September in the Palazzo dei Congressi in the Bologna Exhibition Centre, architect Mario Botta will speak at a conference entitled “Building Peace” with the participation of Fulvio Irace. The renowned Swiss architect will describe his project for a Greek Orthodox church for the Sons of Divine Providence (congregation of Don Orione) in Lviv and pay tribute to the incredible story of resilience and courage on the part of the people involved in its construction, which has continued despite the war in Ukraine. The site manager and local priest were initially forced to interrupt the project as they attended to other more urgent matters, only to resume work shortly after the outbreak of the war.
