PROJECT

THE SHALIMAR RESIDENCY

The Shalimar Residency by Designer Ashish Gupta, founder of Aashi Gupta Designs is a testament of beauty of enduring design, where every detail celebrates heritage while embracing the present

The Shalimar Residency residence, crafted by Aashi Gupta Designs, is a masterclass in timeless elegance, inspired by the romantic charm of Parisian apartments and the grandeur of Roman architecture. Nestled in Delhi, this 2,600 sq. ft. sanctuary is designed for a young couple with a profound appreciation for art, culture, and understated luxury. Every element of the home has been meticulously curated to blend classical aesthetics with contemporary comforts, creating a space that feels aspirational yet deeply personal.

CEVISAMA 2025

Architect Héctor Ruiz-Velázquez is creating 'Hotel Cevisama', a design installation set for Cevisama 2025

Architect Héctor Ruiz-Velázquez is masterminding 'Hotel Cevisama', a design installation set to include bedrooms, multi-purpose spaces and an area that will host talks focused on the potential the products on show at Cevisama offer the contract market.

'Hotel Cevisama' will be "a stunning architectural icon, combining organic and geometrical shapes in an innovative way" to show European ceramic tiles and bathroom furnishings "as symbols of respect for our roots".

Cevisama is forging ahead with preparations for its upcoming edition, which takes place from 24th to 28th February at Feria Valencia. One of the most outstanding of the many new features of next year's show is 'Hotel Cevisama', a project that is the brainchild of Porto-Rican architect Héctor Ruiz-Velázquez, geared to creating excitement about and a sense of the value ceramic tiles and bathroom furnishings offer as key elements of the contract and hotel furnishing businesses.
