TILE TRENDS

CERAMIC TILE TRENDS 2022

Following the pandemic, trends in interior design have focused on creating cozy living spaces with a natural appeal that inspire a sense of security, wellbeing and comfort.

This season, ceramic tiles aspire to bring a harmonious balance and restful tranquillity to settings through a sensitive mix of neutral off-white color. By using matt finishes and porous or rustic-look tiles, tactile effects can be achieved with a natural handcrafted look, inspiring a sense of wellbeing and comfort. The main design styles and patterns for ceramic tiles in 2022 are into four E's: Essential, Emotional Care, Euphoric and Elegant.

PRITZKER PRIZE

FRANCIS KERE

Architect Diebedo Francis Kere has won the Pritzker Architecture Prize 2022, making him the first African and Black architect to win the prestigious award.

Architect Francis Kere became the first African and the first Black architect to win the prestigious Pritzker Architecture Prize 2022. Kere was born on 10 April 1965 in Gando, Burkina Faso, one of the world's least educated and most impoverished nations, a land void of clean drinking water, electricity and infrastructure, let alone architecture. He was the first child in the village to be sent to school as his father, the village chief, wanted his eldest son to learn how to read and translate his letters. Since no school existed in Gando, he had to leave his family when he was 7 years old to live with his uncle in the city. After finishing his education, he became a carpenter and received a scholarship from the Carl Duisberg Society to do an apprenticeship in Germany as a supervisor in development aid. After completing the apprenticeship, he went on to study architecture at the Technical University of Berlin, graduating in 2004.
