TIMELESS BEAUTY

SICIS impresses with its eclectic and timeless proposals

This year, the choice was to present a series of environments based on contemporary eclecticism. Environments that skillfully blend furniture elements of different styles, tastefully combining solutions that are never excessive but always elegant and distinctive. To do this, SICIS introduced into its Home collections pieces of the highest Italian craftsmanship, decorative furniture entirely handmade with techniques that few now master. Furnishings inspired by Rococo style, Empire style, and Neoclassical flavours all reinterpreted and updated according to contemporary tastes. Thus, we find splendid wooden mirrors finished in gold leaf hung on animal-printed Vetrite walls, buffets with claw feet and gold friezes juxtaposed with modern glass tables and 1960s chairs.

SYSTEM CERAMICS REBRANDING

System Ceramics: the rebranding of the Company in line with Coesia gets under way

System Ceramics, the Coesia company, an international leader in the production of technologies for ceramics, presents the Company's new brand identity, implementing a series of actions aimed at strengthening its positioning in the mechanical-ceramic sector on a global scale.

Through this rebranding operation, System Ceramics aims to increase its international brand awareness, attract new customers and talents, and reinforce its presence in the market through a path of growth and the enhancement of its business model. Despite a complicated year for various aspects, the Italian technologies and machinery for the ceramic industry sector closed 2022 with increased revenues: according to the estimated drawn up by MECS - Centro Studi Acimac, the turnover of the entire sector amounted to 2,164 million euros, up 5.2% on 2021.
