ASHLEY HICKS

Ashley Louis David Hicks is a British interior designer, author, photographer and artist. We take you through his journey and explore his new collection

Ashley Hicks was born on 18 July 1963, in King College Hospital in Denmark Hill, London. He is the son and second child of David and Lady Pamela Hicks. Hicks has designed interiors in Europe, the United States, and the United Kingdom. He also has a fabric line for Lee Jofa and furniture lines. Hicks is the grandson of Louis Mountbatten, 1st Earl Mountbatten of Burma. Hicks says his first decorating experience took place when he was 15 or 16 years old, when he decorated his room in a checkered black-and-white motif. Everything in his room had to be either black or white, including the ceiling and carpet.

ARCHITECT BIJOY JAIN

Bijoy Jain is an Indian architect who owns a firm Studio Mumbai. He has developed a body of work that continues to reference aspects of both Indian and Western cultures. We take you through his journey...

My interest lies primarily in doing what I do, with care. As an architect, the way you imagine opening a door, developing a chair, designing the texture of a wall or a floor, is very important. It's about quality, about the consideration you apply to the making of something. And it's about being attentive to the environment, the materials, and the inhabitants. It has to be inclusive.
