PRIMORDIAL ESCAPE

The Wyss+Santos architectural firm has designed a private villa with large volumes and a balanced modernist structure.

Füllinsdorf is a small Swiss municipality in the canton of Basel-Landschaft, in the district of Liestal. There, the Wyss+Santos architectural firm has designed a private villa with large volumes and a balanced modernist structure, towering over the city and offering an impressive view of the surrounding plain. Spaces are organized in large rooms; the interplay between indoors and outdoors is dominated by the airiness of the essential windows; a classic color palette develops a sober alternation of light and dark tones; all these design choices led Wyss+Santos to turn to the primordial.

OPEN APPEAL

A penthouse designed by Boca do Lobo mixes the vibrant with the patterned to create a unique open style of luxury.

Characterized by its eclectic and contemporary architecture, Hong Kong, is the perfect city for Boca do Lobo's studio's most recent luxury loft. The Penthouse, with a panoramic view of Victoria Harbor and the world-famous Hong Kong skyline, is located near the city's Central Business District and offers an unparalleled level of luxury and modernity. Open space was the main concept when developing this interior design project. This exclusive loft provides its owners with sprawling rooms that share a cohesive design aesthetic and yet each has a unique and distinctive appeal.

A modern house entrance is key for setting the tone in any contemporary design. This penthouse is an industrial open space with concrete walls and ceilings that are high enough to accommodate the opulence of the Supernova Chandelier, one of Boca do Lobo's most-wanted pieces.
